Supplemental Educational Services 2011-2012

Supplemental Educational Services: The opportunity for children to obtain supplemental educational services (SES) is a parental choice component of the No Child Left Behind legislation. Supplemental Educational Services (SES) are tutoring and other academic enrichment services provided outside the regular school day which are designed to help children reach academic proficiency. A student is generally eligible for SES if he or she receives free or reduced price lunch and attends a Title I school identified by the state as not meeting state academic achievement targets for at least three years. A maximum number of students to receive SES tutoring and a per pupil financial cap are established yearly by the state for the identified school district. In the Hinsdale School District, Hinsdale Middle School and Hinsdale Elementary School provide opportunities for supplemental education services to qualifying families.

SES Providers at HMS - SES providers have access to Hinsdale Middle School facilities on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from approximately 2:45 to 4:00. Some providers also offer tutoring or on-line services in the student's home for families who would prefer that option. A complete list of SES providers approved to serve NH districts in 2011-12 appears below and is available for consideration by the eligible families. Parents are cautioned that some providers listed as "state-wide" in fact do not serve our area of the state. We are available to work with families to help determine available providers or to help select an alternate provider if their first choice is not available.
